

Formed in 2017, THESE IDOL HANDS is a Sleaze Rock band hailing from Scranton, Pennsylvania. Their catchy riffs, pounding rhythm section, and powerhouse vocals are reminiscent of the days of grunge, along with some modern stoner rock feels.

After the winter releases of singles "BLACK DIAMONDS" and "DRIVE", THESE IDOL HANDS came out of seemingly nowhere and were catching fire in the music scene of Northeast Pa. Spring of 2018 kicked off a string of banger rock shows through the Northeast, including an opening slot for national touring act Killcode, leading to getting the band media coverage on the NEPA Scene Podcast, radio interview for WYLD FM, a featured showcase concert with Alt 92.1 at the Alt 92.1 Radio Theater, and the first band to be featured for 1120 Studios Practice Space multi-media project.

THESE IDOL HANDS have been nominated for "Rock/Alternative Act of the Year" for the 5th Annual Steamtown Music Awards, which will take place in September, along with the release of the band's first EP, "UNBOUND". The band will then hit the road in support of the album in October, playing 7 cities from Scranton to Nashville.

The new EP, UNBOUND, by THESE IDOL HANDS, will be released this November in a very special Limited Edition package.

UNBOUND was recorded at Republic Audio Studio in Clarks Summit, PA and was produced by Clyde Rosencrance.

BLACK DIAMONDS and DRIVE, previously available as digital singles on Spotify, and SILVER WHISKERS that was available on a Limited Edition CD produced by 1120 Studios, were each re-recorded for this release along with 4 new songs.

God's Creatures, Waste and Decay, Ultrasex, and as a bonus, the band's cover of Motley Crue's Piece of Your Action are all songs that are bound to be These Idol Hands new heavy hitters and fan favorites.

Coined as Sleaze Rock, you'll find elements of punk and metal exploding from the riffs, rhythms, and vocals from these Pa natives.
